FOREWORD

This is not the mere recording of facts, but rather an effort to depict the intangible moulding of character through social contacts, through the environment of school and campus, and through the traditions and ideals embodied in our "little world." It is said that the acts of today become the precedents of tomorrow—thus only the future can reveal the full significance of these four years.

The Microcosm

Microcosm is under the control of Student Government. The staff is elected not by the school but by members of the outgoing staff. Its purpose is to keep alive throughout the years the memories of college life.

We wish to thank the Faculty and students for their loyal cooperation in the publishing of this book; Mr. Bush for his enthusiasm and helpful criticism; Miss Burnett and Miss Sutherland for their welcome advice; and Mr. Valz, the representative of the Andover Press, for his invaluable aid in the compiling of the 1934 Microcosm.

Biology and Health

"Biology deals with life, and with living things, of which we are a part. To understand the world about us; to appreciate the beauty and wonders of plant and animal life; to know ourselves; and to attempt an explanation of social behavior, we need some background of biology; some knowledge of the nature of living material.

Much of our biology instruction is liberal, rather than technical. The Department makes a contribution to the preparation for technical work in several schools, notably, Household Economics, Nursing, and Social Work. Those who continue their biological subjects in the School of Science during their Senior year may prepare for various technical fields, including public health, and hospital laboratory positions, research assistants, and teaching. Such work brings more than ordinary satisfactions to the individual in that it often contributes directly to human welfare and health."—Curtis Morrison Hilliard

Chemistry

"The aims of the department of chemistry are to give to students of science a technical training, to students of household economics a foundation upon which to build an understanding of their technical subjects, and to all students in the department a grasp of the spirit of science.

"To understand the meaning of science one must himself have studied diligently some one of its branches. The details which he must memorize, the particular deductions which he must draw from them, the experience of obtaining first-hand information by laboratory experiments, all of these may fade as time passes. If there remains, however, an appreciation that Nature is governed by fundamental laws which can be discovered by systematic search carried on with absolute honesty, accurate observation, and rigid logic, the effort of studying chemistry will not have been in vain, and the object of the teachers in this department will have been attained."—Kenneth Lamartine Mark

English

"The immediate aims of the Department are to help the student to write well and to distinguish quality in literature. We hope to encourage her to make a habit of good reading and we try to present literature in such a way that she will find reading a pleasure. It is our conviction that the study of both writing and reading broadens the student's personal experience and helps her to relate her own life to that of society past and present."

History and Government

" 'Studies,' says Francis Bacon, 'serve for delight, for ornament and for ability.' The study of history serves all these functions. In some of the schools it is, in addition, of immediate professional value. If the Department of History succeeds in bestowing on each student a key to the delights, it will have done something worth while. If it succeeds in encouraging a student to attain a sufficient familiarity with history to be an ornament among those of intellectual interests, it will have done something more. If it helps the student to increase her professional service and earn for herself a more generous living, it will have contributed directly to the purpose of the founder of the college."—Henry Maxwell Varrell

Household Economics

"Wouldn't it be interesting to know how many mothers, during the years of the depression, have handled their home-making problems with more intelligence and courage because they had help from the Home Economics instruction when they were in school or college, or from the community teaching provided by settlement houses and county extension workers? How many children have been fed more nourishing food? How many children have gone to school, self-respecting and happy in good looking made-over clothes? How many mothers have looked upon adjustment to decreased income as a problem to be attacked with spirit? Statistics of this kind are impossible to secure but we all know case histories which provide vivid testimony to the social value of homemaking education."

Library Science

"A library might well adopt as its slogan 'The art preservative of all arts.' Through books the thoughts and accomplishments of the past and the present become part of the equipment of all who read them.

"The field is so vast, and the readers so diverse, that to give the best service, organization of book collections and administration of them by people who are capable of bringing the right book to the right person at the right time have to be developed to a high degree of efficiency.

"The function of a library school is to educate people in the art of giving this expert service.

"Principles have been distilled from the experiences of many libraries over long periods, and methods of carrying out these principles in ways best adapted to the social and intellectual conditions of the day are always evolving.

"Our School prepares for the various types of library work and gives especial attention to the fields of School libraries and Library work with boys and girls."

Mathematics

"Mathematics has been defined as 'The science which draws necessary conclusions.' Its subject matter has two notable characteristics, its definiteness and its permanence. Mathematics is not surrounded or permeated by regions in which conclusions are a matter of opinion. It is permanent in the sense that, while it is continually growing, it has not been necessary to fundamentally alter or discard other portions on account of its growth. For the student, mathematics provides experience in precise thinking and is a fertile field for the development of the habit of sustained attack for problems in general. A knowledge of the methods of mathematical analysis is of fundamental importance in the study of science, particularly in the expression and interpretation of its laws and in the deductions of other facts from them."—Leland David Hemenway

Nursing

"The young woman who chooses nursing for a profession has as her particular task the relief of suffering, the prevention of unnecessary disease and premature death, and the improvement of health. To meet this challenge she must be both a scientist and an artist, combining the rigid discipline of scientific study with the vision and ingenuity of the artist. Her work in the classroom and laboratory is tested by training in a hospital. Here she learns many techniques that become almost rhythmical, but, at the same time, she learns to be continually ready for new problems that demand more than routine solution. The responsibilities placed on the nursing student are heavy, but the reward is the deep satisfaction which comes from being a public servant and from having cast one's lot with the many whose quest is a healthier, happier society."—Marjory Stimson

Physical Training

"Physical education in the colleges should give each student such supervision, instruction, and experience as will enable her to understand her own health possibilities, and therefore, enable her to plan intelligently her own policy of health control. She should know how to secure and to conserve her own health while in college, and later as a graduate know how to become a factor in the advancement in health of her community."

Philosophy, Psychology and Education

"The various courses offered by the Department in Psychology and Philosophy aspire to answer in a broad but significant way the question, What is man that Thou art mindful of him? Insofar as that question is answered is the student prepared to deal with the perplexing problems of life and to make an indispensable contribution to the thought of her time. Each course aims in its unique way to eradicate prejudice and whatever impedes social adjustment, to stimulate frankness and mental honesty, and to quicken the appreciation of the possibilities of man in shaping the society in which he lives. The courses in Education deal with the techniques and devices necessary to the attainment of these broadly conceived ends."—Harrison Leroy Harley

Physics

"As a cultural study, physics with its methods of observation and correlation and its systems of explanations helps in answering the questions Why and How as related to one's everyday experiences in the material world. As a technical study for our students in science, physics in addition to answering the Why and How should guide in the search for the answer to the question How Much. Physics laboratory experience should develop manual dexterity and the ability to make both physical and mental observations with precision and without prejudice. The student of physics should at least acquire sufficient self-propelled interest in modern scientific developments as reported in newspaper and magazine articles and in the semi-technical books to learn that 'Co(s)mic Rays' are not just some of Will Rogers' jokes and that 'The Transmutation of the Elements' is not a problem of the Rapid Transit Company."—James Mead Hyatt

Social Economy

"Simmons College was the first to offer a four-year programme in social service leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science. As the profession evolved the School changed its methods but certain basic principles have always governed it: specialized training on a basis of theory and practice; training in public as well as private service; education in prevention; and above all, the idea of service.

"The School believes that scholarly attitudes are not incompatible with simplicity and common sense and that the test of a professional social worker is his ability to give himself in intelligent, skillful and disinterested service to others."—Katherine Davis Hardwick

Store Service Education

"The Prince School of Store Service Education prepares its graduates for all types of executive positions open to women in department stores. Students taking the course are placed in stores about half the time to observe, participate, and report. This store work includes guided study of store operations and actual experience, including executive experience, as store employees. The School's plan of having its students work in different stores and compare information in the class room under expert guidance gives the students a great advantage. This technical education qualifies them to accept executive positions in personnel, merchandising, or sales promotion divisions of department stores. They are also qualified to conduct courses in retail selling in high and continuation schools."

—Lucinda Wyman Prince

In Memoriam

Barbara Rachel Hoffman
1911-1932

"I thought of lives
Which yet find room
To lend a sweetness to the ungenial day,
And make the sad earth happier for their bloom."

Dear Seniors,

How quickly our four years at Simmons have flown by. Yip! Yip! I remember one day—way back in 1930—when I was so happy on becoming your mascot. It meant that not only would my pedigree gain distinction, but also that I had become affiliated with a promising and active class. Sophomore year I took shape. From then on, our interests grew in leaps and bounds. Remember that Sophomore luncheon when our whole class sat in state for the first time. Then all too soon we were Juniors, yip, yip, yip,—it was the grandest year! You girls went about organizing new programs, swinging successful affairs, while I barked rejoicingly, as I tagged along in the wake of your swift stride. We had such fun working together on Junior Prom, and every week I pestered the News Staff. Oh, I didn't want to become a Senior until I discovered that this Senior dignity is becoming, and not at all stationary.

Before I break down in tears—which is not at all proper for a canine. . . . . , I just want to thank you for choosing me as your mascot. It has been a grand honor and loads of fun to have been associated with such a friendly and cooperative group of girls as the Class of '34.

Your loving mascot,

Scottie

The Fens

Tune: Kreisler's "Old Refrain"

The Fens are shadow-wrapt, misty and gray,
Dim trees sway dreamily at close of day;
Hushed is the city's roar, white is the moon,
Time will swing shut the door of college soon.
These are the things we loved, Prom memories,
The Blue Ship's candlesticks, dances and teas,
Step-singing, lanterns bright, specials at East,
Thursday of reading News, one show at least.
These are the things we'll take through the closed door,
These are the things we'll love forevermore.

Every student is a member of Student Government Association, the largest and most important student organization at Simmons. The Association elects twelve members to form Student Government Council, which meets weekly to consider student administrative problems and routine.

This year Student Government Council has been fortunate in having a progressive, alert spirit in the student body and the administration from which to gain inspiration and with which to work. With the aid of this spirit, Student Government has tried to revitalize itself as an institution truly representative of all students and their interests. To this end the Council has devoted itself to three main problems: first, the elimination of obsolete branches of its organization, such as Conference Committee; second, the establishment of new methods and ideas where student opinion demanded them; third, the efficient administration of policies and projects, including the organizations and committees which are responsible to Student Government.

Dormitory Council

President . . . . . Mary Connor
Secretary . . . . . Caroline O'Leary

Dormitory Council is charged with the regulation of dormitory affairs and with the enforcement of the Simmons Code. From this Council arise recommendations for the betterment of dormitory life, which are sent first to the Student Government Council for ratification, and then to Advisory Board for final sanction. Dormitory Council attempts to interpret the rules to the resident students and to encourage a feeling of respect for them.

This Council is made up of the Vice-President of Student Government, who acts as its leader, and all House Chairmen. This year no Junior was elected as a House Chairman so as an emergency measure three Junior representatives were chosen to sit on Council. Through a decision of last year's Council and a vote of the student body, House Seniors were abolished, as it was strongly felt that the desirable contact between the Freshmen and the upper classmen was adequately taken care of by the new Freshman Plan and the proximity of the new Freshman Houses to Campus.

This year Council has tried to anticipate the desires of the resident students and to cooperate with Student Government Council and its various branches with the aim of attaining a more unified and efficient ruling student body.

Honor Committee

Chairman . . . . . Barbara Holbrook
Secretary . . . . . Eunice Benedict

With the change in the new Honor System, Honor Committee was accepted as the natural successor of the old Judicial Board and has been in operation for three years. While the duty of the committee is to educate the student body to the proper observance of the Honor Code, it also deals with any violations of the code in the academic field.

On registration, every student promises to uphold the Honor Code, which, very briefly, is a promise neither to give nor to receive aid in any quiz or examination, nor to use any source material without explicitly noting the source. Honor Committee is comprised of four Seniors and three Juniors elected by Student Government Council and the President of Student Government, who is a member ex officio.

Dormitory Board

Chairman . . . . . MARY CONNOR
Secretary . . . . . MARJORIE WILSON

For the purpose of considering all offenses against Student Government dormitory regulations, there exists within Dormitory Council a Dormitory Board which is composed of ten members: the Vice-President of Student Government, who is Chairman of the Board; three Seniors, two Juniors, one Sophomore, and one Freshman elected by the Dormitory Council; and the President of Student Government and the Chairman of Honor Committee, who are members ex-officio.

The Board is concerned with the education of the student in the Council's policies rather than exemplary punishment.

The Advisory Committee was formed for the purpose of aiding Student Government in its dormitory problems. The committee is composed of the Dean, three members of the instructing staff who are graduates of the college, appointed by the President, and three members of Student Government Council.

All dormitory rules and questions proposed by Student Government are referred to this Committee, which discusses them freely. On the basis of the opinions expressed in these meetings, the Dean accepts or rejects the submitted proposals.

M. Barry, I. Seach, D. Justis

Academy

President	Iona Seach
Secretary	Mary Barry
Treasurer	Dorothy Justis

This year the members have tried to forward the ideal of Academy as a thinking body of students interested as much in the affairs of the changing world as in books and classes.

The informal gatherings around the fireplace in North Hall have been open discussion hours sometimes led by an instructor, or friend, but as often conducted by the members alone. It is by such free interchange of ideas and stimulation of thought that the members hope to make Academy a revered, as well as an honorary society.

M. L. Imrie, P. Carter, G. Barrows, S. Olsen

Christian Science Organization

Reader . . . . . Gwendolyn Barrows
Executive Secretary . . . . . Priscilla Carter
Chairman . . . . . Mary Louise Imrie
Treasurer . . . . . Selma Olsen

The purpose of the Christian Science Organization is to bring about a greater realization of friendship and cooperation among the Christian Scientists of the college, to share the joys which result from the study of Christian Science, and to offer to all an opportunity to learn its doctrines.

This year the organization has held its weekly meetings on Mondays in the Assembly Hall. In addition to these meetings a lecture was given in February by a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston.

H. MacDonald, D. Sherriff

Debating Society

President	Doris Sherriff
Secretary	Winifred Small
Treasurer	Anne Mae
Publicity	Marjorie Brooks

The Debating Society opened this year with an open forum debate on the probable efficacy of the N.R.A. The Society will continue the open forum debates with the possible addition of other types in which the discussion element will be important. The Debating Society is, in addition, interested in the three-sided debates.

The society also held various social meetings, among which was the Christmas Party.

As the Debating Society's present membership is largely from the Class of 1936 there should be a continued interest and greater development in the future.

Ellen Richards Club

President . . . . . Olga Forslund
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Pauline Nelson

The Ellen Richards Club was founded in 1920 to stimulate an interest in science and to further good fellowship among the science students. Membership in the club is open to anyone in the School of General Science, or in the School of Household Economics who is majoring in chemistry, biology, or physics. The meetings of the club are held every month in the form of teas, and topics of current scientific interest are presented by prominent speakers. The students are also encouraged to attend scientific lectures in and around Boston.

In addition to these meetings, social gatherings, the first of which is the initiation of new members, the annual birthday celebration, and the spring picnic are a part of the year's program.

P. Simonds, E. Kurdt, M. Culberson

Forum

Chairman	Edna Kurdt
Manager for Freshman Dormitories	Phyllis Simonds
Publicity Manager	Mabel Culberson

The purpose of Forum is to offer additional opportunities to Simmons girls for becoming better informed on topics of general interest and significance through lectures given in the dormitories during the year.

The background for the Campus activities was formed by Dr. Varrell's current events classes. Additional speakers were Dr. Miriam Van Waters, Superintendent of the Sherborn Reformatory for Women; Mr. Beatley; Mr. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow Dana, Cambridge School of Drama; and Dr. Gay.

The program at the Freshman dormitories consisted of lectures by Dr. Lindsay, Dr. Kinsolving and Dr. Pomeroy.

Forum wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Dr. Varrell and others for their cooperation and kindness in connection with the Forum program.

Home Economics Club

President	Betty Spear
Vice-President	Frances Griswold
Secretary	Carol MacGregory
Treasurer	Dorothy McClure
Food Sales Chairman	Betty Van Alstyne

The Home Economics Club is the professional organization of the department and is affiliated with the New England and National Home Economics Associations. Through monthly meetings, the club aims to acquaint the undergraduates with the business world and the various vocations open for Home Economics students, by entertaining speakers and interesting trips.

The funds raised by dues, food sales and catering enable the club to send a representative from the Junior Class to the National Convention; to be a member of the New England and National Home Economics Association; to contribute to foreign scholarships; and to finance a banquet at the end of the year to welcome the new Sophomore members.

As a special project this year, the club was influential in having the college lunchroom redecorated. The gay, new curtains were given by the club and enthusiastically made by many of the faculty and club members.

M. Robinson, I. Gordon, D. Myers, J. Lodgen

The Menorah Society

President	Irene Gordon
Vice-President	Dorothea Myers
Secretary	Jeanette Lodgen
Treasurer	Mollie Robinson

The Menorah Society was first founded at Harvard University in 1906 for the purpose of giving expression to the student's idealistic and intellectual, racial and nationalistic problems. The Intercollegiate Menorah Society founded in 1913 has been dedicated to the study and advancement of Jewish culture. At Simmons College this organization has endeavoured to bring to its members stimulating information through speakers and activities for intelligent participation in the solution of Jewish problems.

A scholarship is given annually to a worthy Jewish girl from the funds obtained from social events.

The bond among the Menorah Societies of greater Boston Colleges has in this past year been stronger than ever before and it is the ambition of the Societies to have this cooperation meted towards a common success in future years.

M. Fitzpatrick, K. Horgan, E. Murdock, M. Barry

Newman Club

President	Ellen Murdock
Vice-President	Kathleen Horgan
Secretary	Mary Barry
Treasurer	Mary Fitzpatrick
Club Representative	Barbara Shields

All Catholic students at Simmons are automatically members of the Newman Club. It is one of the largest clubs in the college, and is a member of the National Federation of College Catholic Clubs and also of the New England Province of the Federation.

The purpose of the club is to further the interest of its members in the moral, social, and intellectual problems of the day as they affect the Catholic Church, and to sponsor a united spirit of friendship among the Catholic students at Simmons. Lectures by prominent priests followed by discussions are features of the monthly teas which are held in the Lounge. During the college year there are Communion Breakfasts, a bridge party, and a formal dance.

The club is active in the New England Province, especially in the work of the Charity Committee. If possible, a delegate is sent each year to the Convention of the National Federation.

Poetry Club

President . . . . . Eileen Lovett
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . . Barbara May

Poetry Club, which was formed only five years ago, received quite an increase in membership during 1933-1934. Poetry Club's membership includes not only those students who seek self-expression through the actual writing of poetry, but also those who find merit and delight in the more modern poetry.

During this year the members read and discussed the verses and dramas of selected poets. The club was also honored by addresses on poetry by several members of the faculty. Members of the club read at the Poetry Club tea for the faculty, and at the Boston Center of the Poetry Society of England. In the fall the club held a contest for all undergraduates in an endeavor to discover the talented and to promote a general interest in modern poetry. Original verse by members is regularly presented to the college through News and Per-Simmons.

Poetry Club wishes to thank Mr. DeMille, the friend and adviser of the club since its inception, for his sincere interest in the club.

Front Row: I. Maletz, I. Tanner, Miss Gardner, M. Eck, B. Jacobs

Poster Association

President . . . . . Irma Tanner
Treasurer . . . . . Mildred Eck
Faculty Adviser . . . . . Marion B. Gardner

Poster Association has been a recognized organization for some years, and each year it shows a gain in importance. There is hardly a time when posters announcing the various college functions are not to be seen on the main bulletin boards. The chief activity of Poster Association is to see that these posters are made and placed to inform the students of college affairs.

Our committee is much smaller than we would like to have it and the work of assembling a larger organization is slow because of limited acquaintance with all the schools of the college. New members are always welcome and appointments are made by the faculty adviser who knows of the student's ability to do satisfactory work.

L. Charlton, Dr. Gay, B. Shields, B. Gilcreas

School of English Club

President	Barbara Shields
Secretary	Bethany Gilcreas
Treasurer	Lucia Charlton
Faculty Adviser	Dr. Robert M. Gay

The English Club, organized this year, has for its purpose the furthering of "interest in English as an art and a profession among the students of the School of English," and the provision of "opportunity for noted speakers to address the students on the particular problems in their field."

Since the founding of the Club in November there has been a meeting each month in North Hall with some well-known speaker to address the group. Speakers have included Dr. Gay, Mr. Braim of Jordan's book store, and Mr. Danielson, editor and publisher of the Sportsman.

Dr. Gay has been the greatest contributor to the success of the club, and the whole English department has cooperated splendidly. The officers of the club wish to express their sincere appreciation of the interest that has been shown.

School of Nursing Club

President	Mary Ormand
Vice-President	Janet Herbert
Secretary	Louise Evers
Treasurer	Elizabeth Smith
Representative 1935	Mildred Foster
Representative 1936	Claire Dreschel
Representative 1937	Mary Wilson

The Ann Strong Student Club was organized in 1933 for all members of the School of Public Health Nursing. The club is named for the first director of this school. The aim of the club is to bring together the nursing students in the college and those studying in the hospitals. The purpose of our meetings is not merely social, but also educational. We try to improve our knowledge of nursing by having speakers who are interested in this field.

E. Bowen, Miss Dudley, P. Copeland

Scout Club

President	Priscilla Copeland
Secretary-Treasurer	Elizabeth Bowen
Faculty Adviser	Luella Dudley

The aim of Scout Club is to carry on the spirit of Girl Scouting through college. We Scouts have an enviable heritage and are in duty bound to fulfill the hopes of others who are interested in us. Our meetings come about every four weeks in the form of teas in the Lounge, or suppers which we prepare at the dormitories. Since we have no time for actual troop work and badge work, we try to do some form of community service work and keep in touch with active Scouting through speakers who are leaders in Boston and vicinity. Our community service consisted this year in giving a Thanksgiving Party for a Scout troop at the Goodwill Settlement House, East Boston, making up a Christmas basket for a needy family in Boston, and making scrap books and doll's clothes for a missionary in China.

Our Scout Club was in charge of the Inter-College Scout Club Conference at Cedar Hill in the spring.

Simmons Musical Association

President	Ann Palmer
Secretary	Barbara Tripp
Treasurer	Ruth Peterson
Librarian	Dorothea Talbot
Concert Manager	Ruth Deraney
Business Manager	Elizabeth Adams
Instrumental Club Leader	Kassie Biros

The purpose of the Musical Association is to offer an opportunity to the talented, to promote friendships among the music lovers, and to stimulate a general interest in music. This year the Association, following the example set by the club last year, gave a Christmas Vesper Concert in which both the Instrumental and the Glee Clubs participated. In addition the two clubs broadcast a Christmas concert through the courtesy of radio station WBZ. Last spring the Glee Club also held a joint concert with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Jordan Hall. Before the close of the college year the Association plans to have another radio concert, to sing at the Pops on Simmons Night and in the Northeastern spring concert.

The Instrumental Club has played for teas, at formal dinners, at the Old English Dinner, and at the Christmas Vespers. As a new venture this year the Glee Club sang in the Spring Choral Festival at Symphony Hall.

Unity Club

President	Donna Peverly
Vice-President	Phyllis Reed
Secretary	Priscilla Copeland
Treasurer	Eleanor Perkins

Simmons Unity Club is open to students and faculty of all Protestant faiths. Its purpose is to bring together all students of liberal religious ideals, to promote friendships, and to stimulate the exchange of beliefs and opinions in regard to religion, national affairs, and life. Unity Club holds its meetings on the third Monday of the month at which time an outside speaker addresses the group and then ample time is reserved for a bit of sociability among the students and guests.

Activities of the club are not limited to the monthly meetings; trips of historical interest to Concord, Lexington, and Salem are made. Several times a year there are conferences with prominent speakers, and round-table discussions are held at which such subjects as international peace, organization of the Free Church of America, and personal problems such as marriage are considered.

The Y.W.C.A. has formulated three aims: to foster student-faculty relationships; to bridge the gap between the dormitory girls and the commuters; and to help the various cliques to become better acquainted with each other.

Open house in the form of teas with either a speaker or music have been held every Friday afternoon. Both the faculty and the student body have enjoyed the informal suppers before the fire at Headquarters. The recreational suppers with other college "Y" groups in Boston on Friday evenings have proved very successful. Again this year the "diplomatic" students in black gowns have discussed world problems at the Model League of Nations. Other traditions which were carried on are the Freshman Picnic in September, and the Student-Faculty baseball game. The Simmons delegation at the Phillips Brooks, and the Wellesley and Maqua conferences have had a large attendance.

We hope a "full and creative life" has been made possible this year for more girls than ever before; if so, our year will have been a success.

Three years ago a group of Seniors organized the O2O Club to make it possible for the Juniors, Seniors, and Graduates in the school of Library Science to become better acquainted socially and to have a club that would further the interest in the Library field.

This year to stress the social aspect of the Club the first meeting was held in the form of a tea. The members were also privileged to have Dr. Gay of the English department as a speaker at one of the meetings.

The Dramatic Club reports another successful year. We are trying hard to make it a club for all those who are interested in the theatre. Although there have not been as many open meetings as we hoped for, they have been valuable to the many who attended. Ibsen, Barrie, Singe, and O'Neill are some of the playwrights whom we have discussed in detail.

The all-college annual play, "Death Takes a Holiday," presented at the Repertory Theatre on December 15 was acclaimed a success by all. The traditional Competitive Plays were omitted this year in an effort to revive a more general interest in them.

The aim of The Simmons News, weekly newspaper, is "to maintain a spirit of good fellowship among the students and to help them to keep in touch with the life of the college by means of articles and editorials setting forth the college news of the week, and commenting upon college conditions in general." It is distributed free to all students due to the activity of the advertising department, student support of News Dance and the assistance of Cooperative Society.

This year monthly teas have been introduced with the double purpose of unifying the staff and increasing their technical knowledge. Speakers have included Dr. Varrell, Bill Cunningham of the Boston Post, Harland Ratcliffe and Arthur Johnson of the Boston Transcript.

Other innovations have been: subscription to Collegiate Digest, weekly rotogravure paper; representation at the Women's Intercollegiate News Association Conference; and changing staffs immediately after spring vacation.

The outside world is informed of activities at Simmons through the medium of Press Board. Our objective is to obtain the most constructive publicity in the best manner. This year the goal has been sought under the leadership of a new Publicity Director, Mrs. Phyllis Abell Hill, a Simmons graduate.

Members of the Board are chosen by competitive tryouts and all undergraduates are eligible for membership. The Board is run on a self-supporting basis on money raised by means of a tag day. A scrapbook is kept of the clippings appearing in Boston and out-of-town papers.

The Simmons Athletic Association is one of the binding forces of our college life. Continuing in its purpose to promote interest in athletics and physical education it also unites the girls in a spirit of fun and competition and makes for lasting friendships formed during practice in the various sports. Hockey, archery, tennis, riding, swimming, basketball, baseball, ping pong, and badminton were all well represented and as popular as ever. Faculty-student ping pong and tennis tournaments were continued, meeting with great enthusiasm on both sides.

Through the able leadership and efficient supervision of Miss Diall, Miss Leach, the Bouvé coaches and the managers, 1933-1934 has been an interesting year and the Athletic Association hopes that the cooperation and enthusiasm of the student body will continue to be as encouraging and helpful next year.

Tennis has had a very successful fall season with over a hundred girls playing in the singles tournament. For several years Life Saving has held a place among the sports at Simmons. The courses are given at the Y.W.C.A. pool under the direction of Captain Jack Wallace of the Red Cross. The course for Senior Life Savers begins early in the fall. After the Christmas holidays there is an Examiners course which trains swimmers for teaching life saving at summer camps and beaches.

This year thirteen passed the Senior tests, and twelve received Examiner's rating.

Track Day Song

Composed by Libby Solomon and Ada Berning'34

For many years it has been customary
To celebrate a Track Day.
In competition classes all are vying
They are trying to win the fray today.

Chorus:

Athletes of '34, we're cheering you to victory
As you will match your skill with '31 and '3;
Watch out for '32,
They think that they'll win, too,
But the victors, we know, will be
The Freshmen!
Classmates, we'll stand behind you
As you will raise our colors high,
'34 of Simmons fight, heaping up honors with your might,
Win for the Crimson and the White!

Since 1905 the Freshmen have set aside one day in which they may be hilariously childish before assuming the more dignified state of Sophomore year—hence our Freshmen Frolic. It usually takes place in the "back yard," accompanied by pigtails, bare knees, and the most cherished of childhood toys. And of course the faculty advisers attend and help choose the most appropriate costume. Everyone plays Tag, London Bridge, and Drop-the-handkerchief, but the climax comes when hot dogs, lollipops, and ice-cream arrive. No wonder we feel a little dizzy the next day.

The very first dance we could call our own! It was blissfully hard to wait for December 5 to come. But we finally arrived at the Crystal Ballroom, were escorted through the line by the ushers dressed in red and white, and, with a glance at our little suede programs, drifted happily off across the ballroom. We joined our friends for little cakes and ices, and it seemed all too soon that the lights were dimming, Roy Lamson's orchestra was playing "Goodnight, Sweetheart," and Shuffle was really over.

Upon the toastmistress's signal to pull the ribbons, our Scotties brought us our rings, symbols of loyalty to Simmons. When the speeches and songs were over we left the room feeling proud and happy to be members of the class of '34.

A serenade at 6 o'clock in the morning, given by the Sophomores awoke the Seniors who found corsages of yellow marguerites hanging on the door-knobs. Later the Sophomores greeted their sister-class who joined them in watching the crowning of the Queen of the May.

The Eski-Players attempted to entertain the court with "The Eskimo Tragedy" but it was far too sad. The king refrained from crying, but the tender-hearted queen was discovered sniffling as one after another, the noble cast died. According to tradition, the festival was concluded with a strawberry shortcake breakfast.

Among the most brilliant society events in recent years, were the weddings of two members of the 1934 family. Freshman year, Miss Polly Churchill '34 became the charming bride of the Junior President with several of her attractive sisters as bridesmaids. The event was rivalled only by the marriage of her brother, Mr. Dick Ringwood '34 in Junior year to the Freshman President. This time the handsome men of the family were attendants. Less notable guests were thrilled at the presence of many famous friends of the family, including Robinson Crusoe and his man, Friday, Benito Mussolini, Rudy Vallee, Aimee Semple MacPherson Hutton and Mr. Hutton, and Polly Moran.

These weddings symbolize the pledge of friendship between the Freshman and Junior classes.

Junior Prom

May 5, 1933 Hotel Statler

Dear Seniors:

Every time I think of Junior Prom, my Scottie heart goes pitter-patter so quickly. A flood of beautiful memories pours over me. The first time I trotted up the elegant stairway of the Imperial Suite in the Hotel Statler, I was so thrilled that in between dances when no one was looking I slipped away to repeat the process.

Never shall I forget our Junior Prom, thanks to the splendid cooperative work of the Prom Committee above, and the very capable leadership of Ada Berning, Chairman.

The happy, united spirit of the class just seemed to flit all around the room with those many-colored revolving spots of light, shining for a second upon one glowing face and then travelling to another. From where I sat upon the platform "in the spot" with Ranny Weeks' rhythmic orchestra beside me, it seemed that the lovely strains of music just floated around the couples, as they danced so gracefully to the latest tunes. I almost wanted to dash down and dance too, especially when Ranny Weeks played that never-to-be-forgotten "Stormy Weather."

Yip! Yip! was I ever excited when our Sophomore waitresses dressed in class colors passed out Prom favors to the tables. Such "oh's" and "ah's" from the couples, when out of the depths of those white boxes appeared copper lamps for the ladies and copper humidors for the men bearing our Simmons seal. What a delicious dinner we had, just as I was getting hungry too. I was almost too thrilled to eat. Then, more lovely dancing, more flitting lights, "Stormy Weather" again, until the clock put a stop to it all, but not to the wonderful memories of our beautiful Junior Prom.

Your loving mascot,
Scottie

One night we Seniors, forsaking our traditional dignity, dressed up as true Hoboes. Tramps of every description shuffled down the steps of North Hall's basement, where a miraculous transformation greeted us. Here in Hobo Cabaret were dim lights, an orchestra, hoboes huddled in groups around the room seated either around small tables or upon the floor. Hic! some tramps liked hanging around the bar. Were we treated royally! Waitresses brought us the food—mmm—thick ham, cheese, or jelly sandwiches and real good cider. We even saw a very entertaining floor show. Truly, most of us felt like a $1,000,000 although we only looked like the O's in a million. When the judges were preparing to award the prizes, it was funny to see ourselves trying to be perfect hoboes. The prize winners as you know were Barbara Holbrook, Libby Solomon and Dorothy Squire. However, all good things must end and to the jolly discords of our Tinny-Tin-Tin Orchestra we left Hobo Cabaret and our carefree roles behind.

Old English Dinner

Another tradition was enthusiastically supported last December when Student Government was host to a group of Faculty guests and Dormitory girls at the annual Old English Dinner. The president and vice-president of Student Government as my Lord and Lady of the manor led the way, accompanied by members of the council clad in medieval style. The hall was decked in the old English manner with a background of evergreens, and with holly and wreaths on the table, which was bare except for the plenteous food eaten only with knife and spoon. Two pages brought in the boar's head with much ceremony while carollers sang "Caput apri defero." A great stir was created when near the end of the feast a flaming pudding was brought in accompanied by "bowls" of cider.

Senior Prom

May 18, 1934 Hotel Statler

Chairman: Ruth Jacobs

Seniors are supposed to be sophisticated, dignified, blasé—never sentimental, but Prom night, last and loveliest of the college dances, makes sophistication forgotten, and Seniors and their escorts wax enthusiastic over the dimly lighted Imperial Suite, and the smooth, tantalizing music of Jacque Marlowe.

Prom is more than a supper dance; it means the serenade of our Sister Class; the solving of the mystery of favors; and the fun of dancing to the Carioca, Ill Wind and other favorites until two o'clock in the morning.

WESTON-THURSTON COMPANY

Under the Grasshopper since 1898

Stalls 20-22-24, New Faneuil Hall Market, Boston, Mass.

Telephone LAFayette 1540 and 1541

The Weathervane on Faneuil Hall is a heavy copper grasshopper fashioned by the hand of Deacon Shem Drowne in 1742. It fell to the ground during the earthquake that visited Boston in 1775. It suffered a like fate when Faneuil Hall was burned in 1761 and again by accident in 1889. But though often repaired it is still in place above the dome on the CRADLE OF LIBERTY.

Privately Printed

This 1934 Microcosm is a fine example of a limited edition, privately printed.

The staff of this book and an increasing number of other private publishers have been turning to organizations which specialize in the production of fine brochures, magazines, and privately printed books. For more than a century The Andover Press has served such publishers, planning and printing class annuals, descriptive booklets, genealogies, and other quality publications.
